

MIO

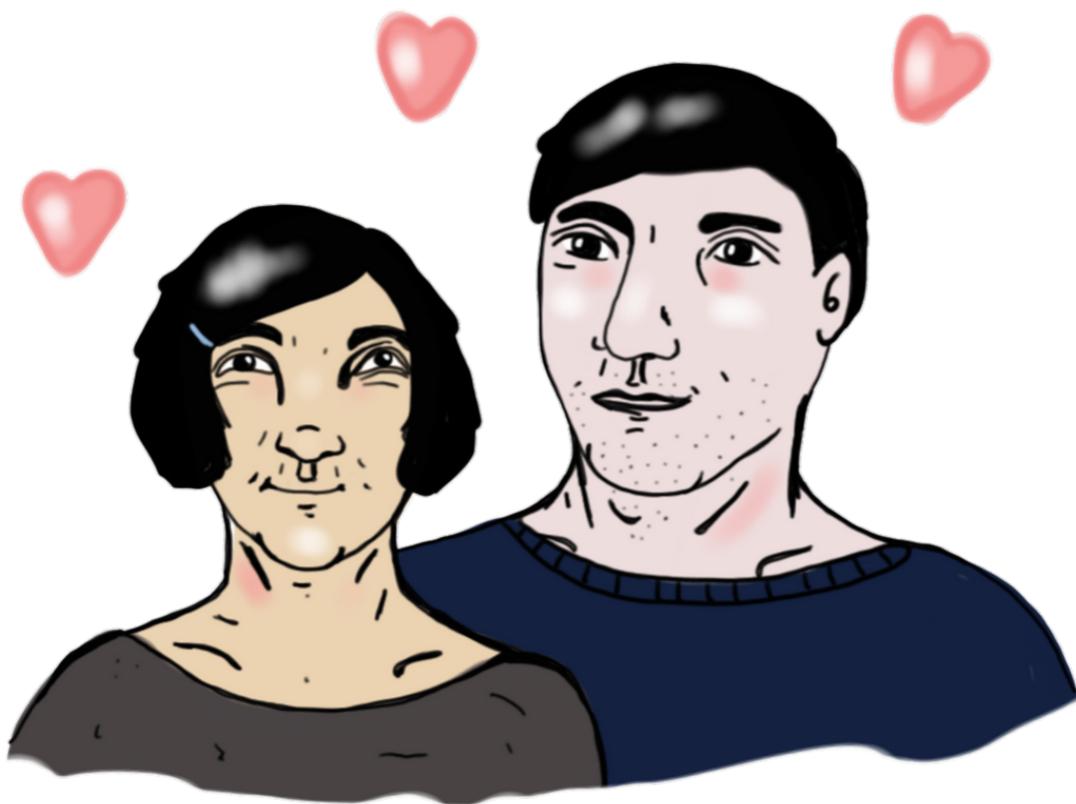

A story about relationships and consent

RFSU MALMÖ, 2019

Mio and the guy
are in a relationship.

Mio is in love.

What does it feel like to be in love?

How can you let someone know that you are in love with them?

Where can you meet someone to be in a relationship with?

What happens if one falls in love with someone at work?

Tonight the guy
is coming over to Mio's place.

Mio feels happy
and nervous.

What can Mio and the guy
do on their date?

The guy knocks
at the door
at seven o'clock.

Mio and the guy watch a film.

They start kissing on the couch.

What do you think it feels like
for Mio and the guy?

What can one do
if it doesn't feel good?

Mio wants to have sex.

How can they communicate
this to the guy?

Mio kisses the guy
on the neck.

The guy moves away.

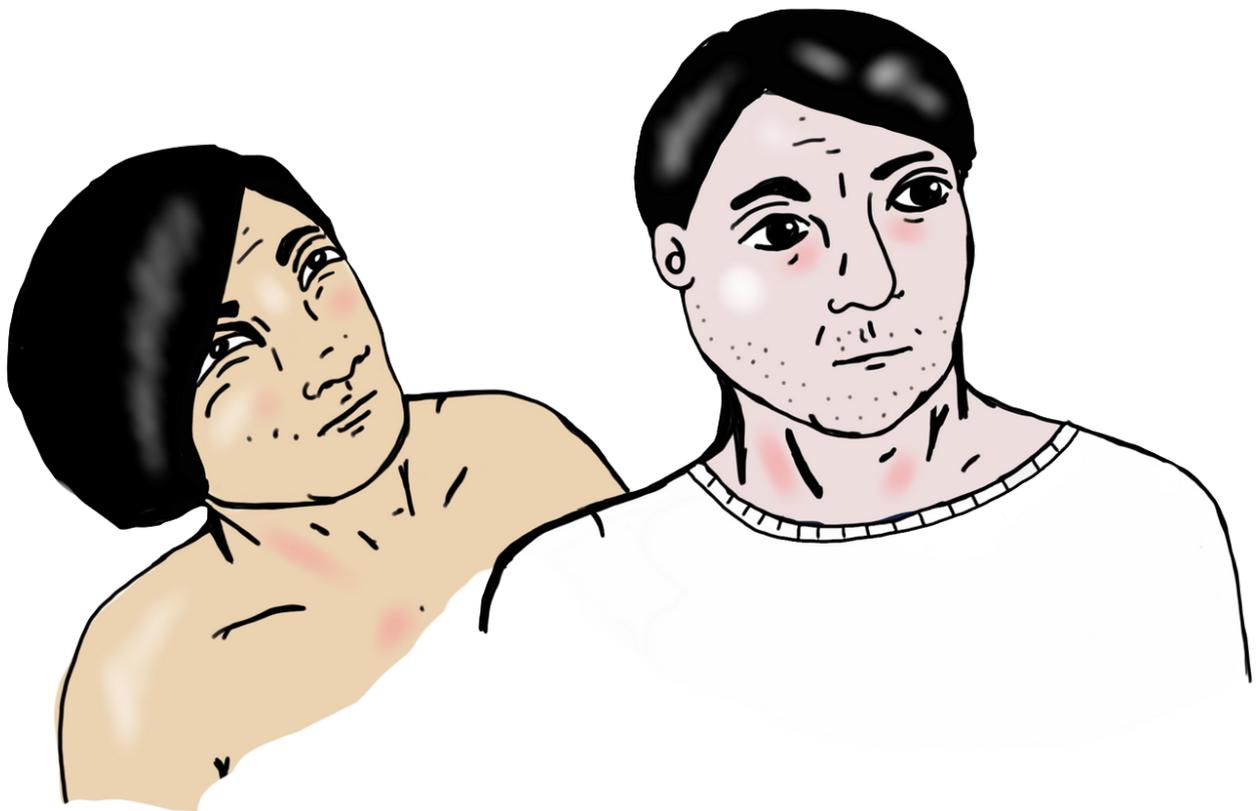

Why does the guy
move away?

The guy feels nervous.

He wants Mio to take things a bit slower.

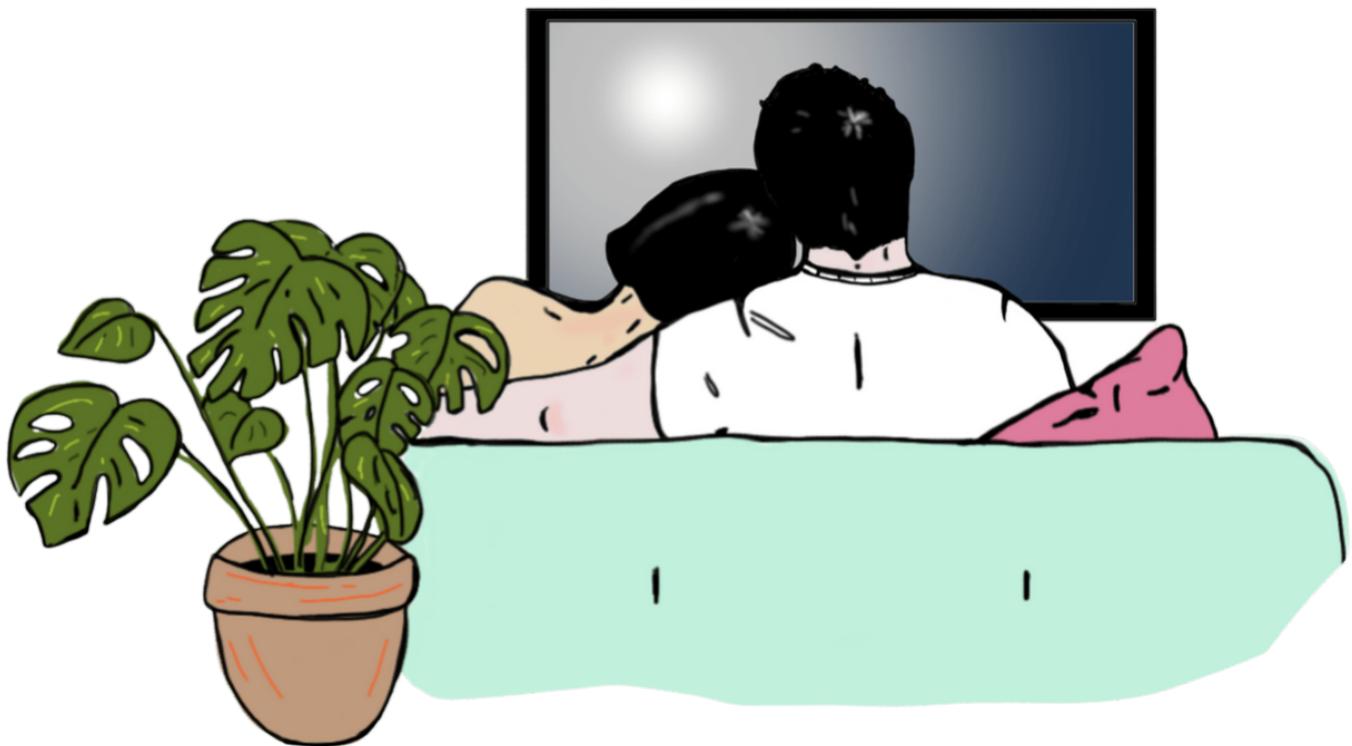

What can the guy do?

What can Mio do?

Mio and the guy
decide to just snuggle
and watch the film.

The Mio material is a story with questions for discussion to go along with it.

The material is adapted for people with intellectual disabilities.

The story is about relationships and consent.

Mio was developed in 2019 by RFSU Malmö in association with Grunden Malmö.

